

A stitch during time: artists and prisoners sew together - in pictures

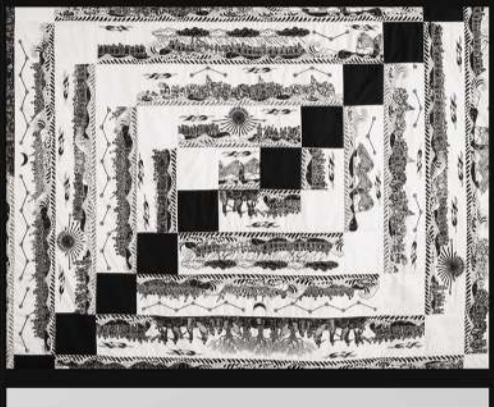

Since 2011, the charity Fine Cell Work has been teaching British prisoners to make needlework. Some have written, 9% of whom are men, have collaborated with eight artists, including William and Cecilia Brindley. Their work is now to appear in an exhibition and another at North's called Prisoners' Work.

Prisoners' Work is at North's, London W1, from 26 February

A detail from Obverse to Quilting, 2016 (left) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

A detail from Obverse to Quilting, 2016 (right) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

The artists, 2016 to 2017, print and sew with embroidery by Az Weick.

A detail from The Artist, 2019 (part one) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

No Man Is An Island, 2019 (part one) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

Numbers, 2019 (part one) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

A detail from Numbers, 2019 (part one) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

Void, 2019 (part one) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

Hope from a Thin Line, 2019 (part one) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

A detail from Hope from a Thin Line, 2019 (part one) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

Bliss, 2019 (part one) printed with embroidery by Az Weick.

to
clear and unselfish; smoothly running, easy, free of harshness, benign; (of water) fresh, not salty (of milk) fresh, not tainted; (of wine, ale, etc) not dry or bitter, retaining a sugary or fruity flavour; wholesome; gracious, amiable, mild, soft, gentle; delightful, charming (of); all right, satisfactory (not by); dear, beloved (of); ingratiating, often impulsively, clinging or sticky (in taste, smell, etc); more or less enamoured (with or upon); (of) soft, sweetly, etc that which is sweet; a sweet dish (pudding, fruit, etc) as a course; a sweetmeat, confection, esp a boiled sweet; (a form of address used to) a beloved person; (in pl) whites and cordials sweetened with syrup. etc (now rare) to sweeten.